LOOKING FORWARD

GAPS

1

SPATIAL

some cross-border clusters are better covered than others, e.g., Kenya's cross-border clusters vs those of Ethiopia and South Sudan.

2

PROGRAMMING

Some borderland development priorities well covered (connectivity, resilience) and others less so (social cohesion, basic social services).

FINANCING

although more work is required (Action #2), indications that the population of 20 million people living in the cross-border clusters are under-invested.

INSTITUTIONAL AND EMPOWERMENT

platforms for empowering and enhancing the citizen voice in borderland policy and development lacking.

PEACE AND COHESION

foundational levels of peace and security for sustainable development are absent in some cross-border clusters, e.g., Cluster 5 (Gambella) and parts of the Cluster 1 (Karamoja), Cluster 3 (Mandera), and Cluster 8 (Shabelle).

A multi-sectoral regional borderlands program is still a priority in the short to medium-term

Would address investment gaps and delivery complementary local investments, coordinate sector project at the local level, and support the institutional framework for borderland development.

Focus on under-programmed cross-border clusters (e.g., Ethiopia, South Sudan), but learn from well programmed clusters (Kenya).

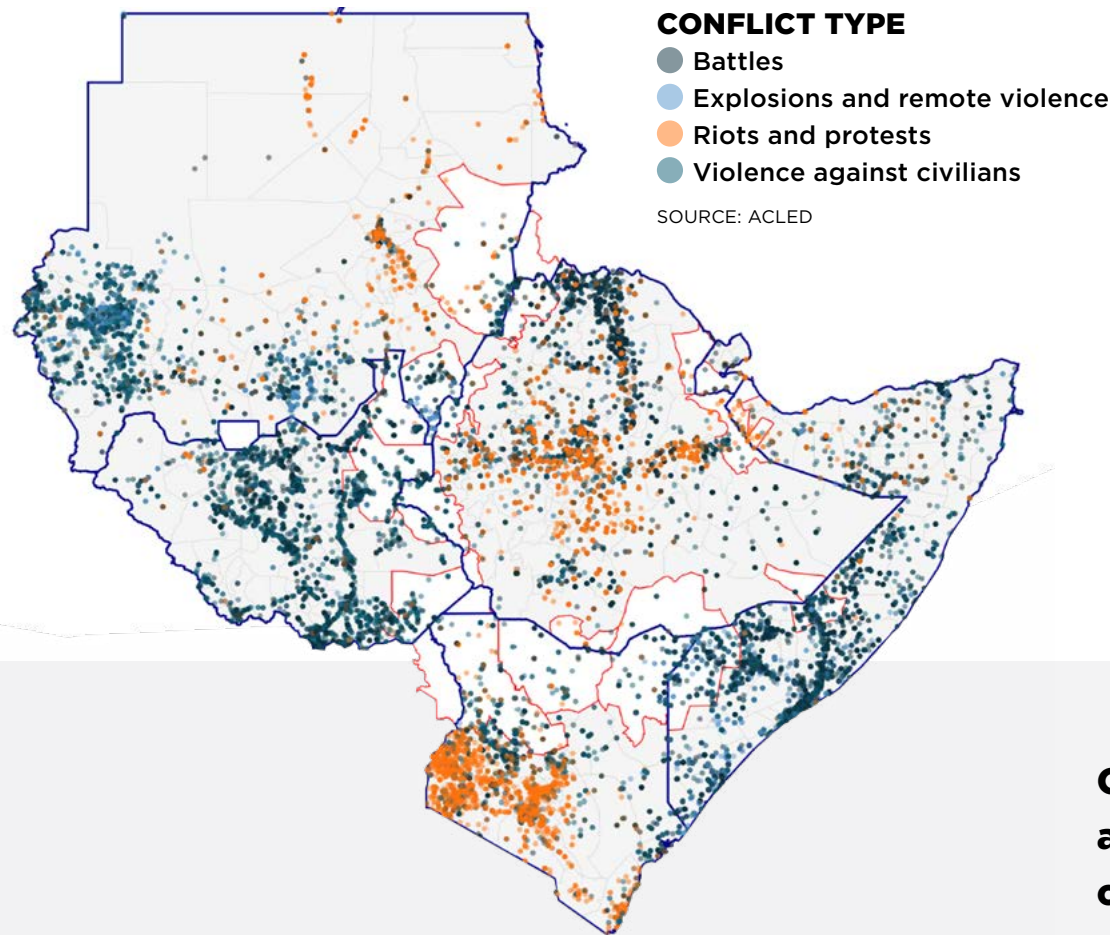

Phased approach – start with conflict analysis, community-driven approaches, and complementary programming:

- Complementary last mile infrastructure
- Small-scale trade facilitation with a focus on women and youth
- Natural resource management
- Local economic development
- Peace building and conflict management
- Basic social service delivery grants

Support implementation of a local cross-border platform for borderlands.

WHY SOCIAL COHESION MATTERS

Borderlands Roadmap identified social cohesion as a key challenge in HoA Borderlands.

SOCIAL COHESION IS:

“a sense of shared purpose, trust and willingness to cooperate among members of a given group, between members of different groups, and between people and the state.”

HORIZONTAL

within the members of a community & between members of two different communities

VERTICAL

between citizens and the state

Challenges of both horizontal and vertical social cohesion - characterized by:

- sexual and gender-based violence
- inter-communal violence (often over resources)
- historical marginalization of borderland communities and trust deficit towards state authorities

Improved social cohesion is essential for:

- Facilitating economic development— economic investments, trade and commerce, and exchange across communities.
- Managing local infrastructure.
- Building climate resilience.
- Responding to humanitarian crises - especially high levels of displacement.
- Improving national security by countering violent extremism.

EXISTING INITIATIVE AND INSTITUTIONS

Responsibility for social cohesion is distributed across institutions, policies and processes.

SOME KEY INSTITUTIONS

- DJIBOUTI: Ministère de l'intérieur, Ministry of Justice, Agence Djiboutienne de Développement Social
- ETHIOPIA: Ministry of Peace, National Dialogue Commission, Administration for Refugee and Returnee Affairs (ARRA), etc.
- KENYA: National Cohesion and Integration Commission (NCIC)
- SOMALIA: Ministry of Interior (MOIFAR) and Ministry of Planning (MoIPED)
- SOUTH SUDAN: Ministry of Peacebuilding
- Customary and local authorities
- IGAD – e.g. CEWARN Initiative

POLICIES AND PROCESSES

- Constitutional documents and national development plans, e.g.
 - Vision Djibouti (2035)
 - Somalia 9th National Development Plan (2020-24)
 - Kenya's National Cohesion and Integration Act
- Devolution process in Kenya, Ethiopia's ongoing national dialogue process, etc.
- Community based/localized social cohesion processes
- Security sector reform policies across HoAI countries

EXAMPLES OF HOAI PROJECTS FOCUSED ON SOCIAL COHESION

- Development Response to Displacement Impacts Project in the HoA (DRDIP, WB) – operating in Djibouti and Ethiopia
- Peaceful and Resilient Borderlands (EU-BMZ)
- Groundwater for Resilience (WB)
- Boresha (EU)
- Deris Wanaag (FCDO)

KEY GAPS

Cross-border initiatives aimed at promoting social cohesion, institutionalization of local social-cohesion platforms across the HoA Borderlands.

KEY GLOBAL AND REGIONAL LESSONS

PROGRAMS & POLICIES

Programs and policies should utilize a clear and concise concept of social cohesion, with:

- A clear and critical contextual assessment of the social cohesion challenges in a country/region.
- Context-appropriate indicators and methods to measure efforts to improve social cohesion (for instance by modifying existing indices such as Social Cohesion and Reconciliation (SCORE) Index).

INTEGRATED APPROACH

Most useful for social cohesion to guide national policymaking and programming as a whole rather than being included only as part of discreet programs - small scale interventions tend to affect only direct recipients.

COMMUNITY & LOCAL LEADERSHIP

Community and local leadership is vital for social cohesion initiatives - including through being part of the design process of interventions.

INTERVENTIONS

Social cohesion interventions need to complement/be complemented by interventions on addressing key household/community needs.

TIMELINES

Timelines for interventions and assessments should be realistic.

PRELIMINARY POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS & NEXT STEPS

KEY POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

National social cohesion policies, programs, and financing to be reviewed to assess coverage of borderland areas/communities.

Nationally appropriate monitoring framework developed to measure/assess borderlands social cohesion efforts.

Conflict sensitivity assessments to be included in Borderlands focused development projects (including large infrastructure development, and government investments).

and support for cross-border institutional coordinatioDevelopment partners should support national social cohesion efforts through programmatic interventions.

Development partners should support institutionalization of cross-border platforms to social cohesion.

- Develop or support local-level memoranda of understanding on the creation of these platforms.
- create separate community-level structures or platforms under new development projects where they do not already exist.
- Strengthen existing structures – at the community level and/or those created under development programs.

NEXT STEPS

- Consultations on HoAI white paper with country focal points, national advisers, and project teams.
- Consultations with development partners.
- Revisions, validation, and adoption of social cohesion white paper.
- Identifying additional research required, including deep dives on conflict and peace building in clusters 1 and 5.
- Identification of gaps in investments – including need for multi-sectoral regional borderlands program covering social cohesion, livelihoods, basic social service delivery, etc.
